

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Preface.

"The sad features of a book are in the possibilities indicated but not accomplished. Nevertheless the inevitable time comes when the impressible clay hardens into stone; when the work, if not to be completed, yet must be put forth."

"The Parke Families of Massachusetts" is published primarily for the information of the living descendants of the families. Secondly it places in permanent record form many facts which might otherwise be irrevocably lost to posterity.

For convenience in writing "P-a-r-k-e" has been selected for use here, that being the old English spelling of the name; and the use of this form of orthography in a general way is intended to include the various other methods of spelling, such as Park, Parkes, Parks, Peirks, etc.

An effort has been made to include in these pages some record of every person born Parke in Massachusetts, whose ancestor came to America previous to 1800. A number in New Hampshire and Vermont have also been included. The complete Parke ancestry has been given when obtainable; except in the case of descendants of Robert<sup>1</sup> Parke, which will be found in "The Parke Families of Connecticut."

The preparation of a genealogy is usually attended by many difficulties, as will be attested by anyone who has attempted such a work. The compilation of this book has been no exception to the general rule; and in addition to the usual obstacles, the compiler has had to attempt to set right a number of errors in regard to the earlier generations of the Richard<sup>1</sup> Parke family which have crept into printed works and have been accepted as facts by some people, simply because they had been so published.

Accuracy has been the aim in everything printed here; and much that could not be substantiated, or did not appear plausible, has been omitted or has been inserted with the qualifying words that it was "possible" or "probable." With all the care exercised and with the best intentions in the world to have every statement correct, it is likely, however, that errors will be discovered. Great care has been taken to exclude every statement that was palpably wrong. One case in point being where a correspondent claimed that an ancestor had been a companion of a certain prominent man, when the fact was that this prominent man died fifteen years before the ancestor was born.

Information has been obtained from a great variety of sources. Over five hundred printed books were consulted for every reference to the family. Town and church records, old wills, gravestones, and old family bibles have been examined. The compiler has personally visited many of the old towns of Massachusetts during the past nine years.

Considerable assistance has been received from various descendants of the families who are interested in the subject to the extent of collecting data in regard to their branches; and this book is the beneficiary of their work. While space will not permit naming them all, the following should be mentioned: Lt. C. W. Parke, U. S. N., who has been interested in the subject for twenty-four years.

in addition to sending his Ms. for the book, made its publication possible at this time by his large subscription. Mrs. A. Augusta Cooke contributed the collection of her father, Mr. Levi Wesson Park, (published in 1888), and brought the matter up to date by her own efforts. Mr. Frank Osmer Park placed at our disposal his book entitled "One Branch of the Park Family." Mr. Lawrence Park, of Groton, wrote the history of William<sup>1</sup> Park and descendants. Mrs. C. H. Wheeler, of Concord, contributed the article by Mr. Tolman which explains the puzzle of the first Richard's children. Mrs. E. P. Detweiler, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. Lewis Parks, Stow, Mass.; Miss Ethel J. Park, Woodford, Vt.; Mr. Gilbert M. Parks, Fitchburg; Mr. George Park, Worcester, Mass., and many others are entitled to the reader's thanks for their assistance in collecting and forwarding data for this genealogy.

It is to be regretted, however, that a large majority of those to whom letters and circulars were sent failed to respond; and as there is no way by which information in regard to the later generations may be secured except from the living members of the families, it is certain that many who should be in this book have been omitted. The writer cannot be blamed for any of these omissions, as circular letters have been forwarded to all of the various names whose addresses could be obtained.

Why anyone should fail to claim relationship to these Massachusetts families, who can honestly do so, is a matter that cannot be satisfactorily explained. Members of these families have always been found taking an active and honorable part in everything that has tended to advance the interests of the Country and the good of mankind. Editors, authors, physicians, judges, professors in colleges, promoters of great enterprises, explorers, and those in the humbler, but none the less honorable, walks of life; the descendants of these families have never been found wanting. There are no criminal or pauper records that could be included in the history of these families. While a few have amassed riches, the majority belong to the great middle class, the bone and sinew of the Country.

The writer considers it a great privilege that he has been permitted to become, in a feeble way, the historian of these families; and submits this volume to the indulgent reader, knowing that it has many faults, but hoping that such as it is, it may serve as the nucleus of a greater and better work to be attempted by some more gifted pen in the time that is to come, when the present actors have retired from the scene.

Parke Bibliography.

Many of the Parke clan have been interested in their ancestry and a number have published books and pamphlets on the subject; but it is likely that a greater number have collected data for the information of their immediate families which will never be printed.

Bond's History of Watertown, Mass., which is really a genealogy of the old families of that town; contains considerable data in regard to Richard<sup>1</sup> Parke and several generations of his descendants; among which appears a number of errors which this volume has attempted to straighten out.

Morrison's History of Windham County, N. H., published in 1883, contains a complete genealogy of Alexander<sup>1</sup> Park and his descendants, together with several good portraits.

The Peter Park family, of Stonington, Conn., was the subject of a small book published by the Rev. C. C. Park, of North Amherst, Ohio, in 1876.

"The Parke Family of Washington County, Pennsylvania," was written and published by W. J. Park, of Covington, Ky., in 1880.

Mr. Edwin H. Park, Denver, Colo., compiled and published in 1902, "The Park Record, Containing an Account of the Ancestry and Descendants of Thomas Kinnie Park and Robert Park, of Groton, Conn., and Grafton, Vt.," an illustrated volume of eighty-eight pages. This family is descended from Robert<sup>1</sup> Parke, of New London, Conn.

In 1888, Mr. Levi Wesson<sup>1</sup> Park, [No. 1465] published a small volume, "Family Record of Levi Park, [No. 755] of Bernardston, Mass."

The History of Rye, N. Y., contains a record of Roger Park and some of his descendants.

"A Sketch of Owen Biddle," privately published at Philadelphia, in 1892, contains a short account of the family and descendants of Thomas Parke, who embarked at Dublin, May 21, 1724, (then aged 64) on the ship "Sizragh," and settled in East Caln, Pa.

"One Branch of the Descendants of Richard Park, of Cambridge, Mass., Together with Brief Records of Descent of Several Allied Families," was published for private distribution, by Frank Osmer Park, of Syracuse, N. Y., in 1903. It contains sixty pages showing the ancestors and descendants of Simeon<sup>7</sup> Park. [No. 754].

Henry William Clark, of Montgomery, Ala., compiled and issued "A Genealogy of the Parks Family," in 1905, a volume of 145 pages containing an account of Samuel Parks who is said to have landed at Charleston, S. C., prior to 1750, and settled in Virginia; he having emigrated first from Scotland to Ireland and thence to America.

The "Genealogy of the Parke Families of Connecticut," including Park and Parks, was compiled by Frank Sylvester Parks, and issued in 1906. It contains 333 pages with an eight page Appendix and is illustrated. All descendants of the Connecticut families whose ancestry had been traced up to the time of publication were included.

There have also been a number of pamphlets issued on the subject, and several town histories contain references to the different families.

Coat-of-Arms.

The coat-of-arms illustrated in the frontispiece has been used in the family of a descendant of Richard Parke for over a hundred years. The same arms with the motto "Justitia Tenax," has been used by another descendant of Richard. The latter has also been claimed and used by descendants of Robert<sup>1</sup>.

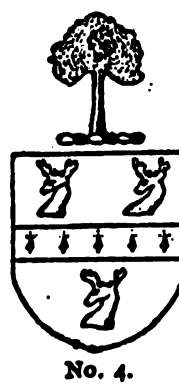

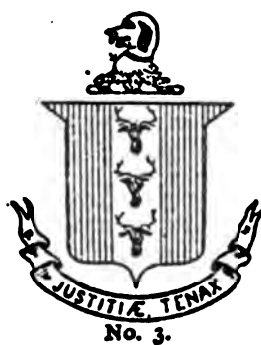

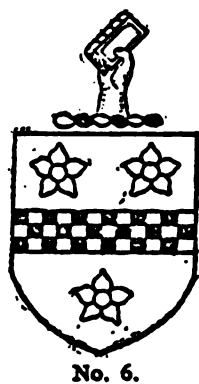

It is likely that some American families have the right to bear arms under the laws of Great Britain; but, as there are no laws on the subject in the United States, anyone can use any coat-of-arms here that he may desire.

Below are given descriptions of a number of Parke coats-of-arms which have been granted at different times to families in Scotland and England. The colors used in these descriptions are: Gules, red; Azure, blue; Argent, white or silver; Or, golden. These colors are also abbreviated.

1. Three stag's heads caboched gules, or, a field argent, with a stag hound's head for a crest. [Illustrated in frontispiece.]

2. Parke of Lower Henbury, co. Dorset. Azure, on a fess engrailed argent, between three hinds trippant or, as many torteaux, each charged with a pheon of the third. Crest: A stag's head couped sable, holding in the mouth a key, or. Motto: "True and fast."

3. Gu, on a pale or, three Buck's heads caboched of the first. Crest: A tallot's head gu. pierced in the breast with a pheon or. is borne by the name of Parke, of Wishich, in the Isle of Ely in Cambridge-shire, by Sir Wm. Seger, Garter, 1618.

4. Arms of Richard Parkes, of Willingworth, county Stafford, Feb. 4, 1615. "Sable a fess Ermine between three buck's heads, couped or. And for his crest on a wreath on his colours—or and sable, an oak tree flourishing with leaves and acorns thereon, a squirrell all proper." From Hist. of Wednesbury, County Stafford, Eng., 1854; and British Museum Harl. MS. 7025, f 201.

5. Parke, of Gestingthorpe, England. Azure, an eagle displayed argent, gutte gules, legged and beaked, or. Crest, an Eagle's head coupee, erminois, about its neck a mural crown, sable, and beaked sable.

6. Scotland, -1672. Az. a fesse, chequy gu. and ar. between 3 frases of the second. Crest: A dexter hand holding up a shut book ppr. Motto: "Graviter et pie."

7. Mr. Philip Samuel Park Esq., whose address is Altadore, Preston, county Lancashire, England, has arms: "A fesse inverted chequy azure and argent, between three stag's heads caboshed in chief and one in base gules. Upon the escutcheon is placed a helmet befitting his degree, with a mantling azure and or; and for his Crest: on a wreath of the colours, upon a mount vert, a stag's head caboshed gules, between two marigolds slipped proper; with the motto, "Providentiæ me committo."

Origin of the Name.

The origin of the name Parke is probably more easily discovered than that of many other English surnames. Undoubtedly when surnames were first used, those who lived in or near a park were called Parke or Parker, and as there were many so living at that period, the name was probably adopted by a number of different families. Webster's Dictionary gives the ancient definition of Park as follows:

1. A piece of ground inclosed, and stored with beasts of the chase, which a man may have by prescription, or the king's grant.
2. A tract of ground kept in its natural state, about or adjacent to a residence, as for the preservation of game, for walking, or the like.

An ancient writer on the subject of surnames, Ralph Brooke, York, Herald, in 1594 wrote:

"If a man had three sons, the one dwelling at the Townsend, the other at ye Woods, and the thyrde at the Parke, they all took theyr surnames of theire dwellings and left their annicente surnames; which error hath overthrowen and brought into oblyvion manye annicente houses in this realme of England."

"Patronymica Britannica," an authority on English surnames; published at London in 1860, has the following:

PARK. From residence near a Park. Anciently, AT-PARK and A-PARK. See however, Peter.

PARKH. 1. May be a derivative of Peter, and intermediate between that and Perkins; or, 2, local; either from one of the places called Parc in Normandy, situated respectively near Dieppe and Bernay, or from residence near some English park, like the De la Parocke of the H. R.

PARKES. May belong to the series, Park, Parkins, Parkinson, &c., from Peter, the Christian name; or may be local, from Parcs, near Pout-l'Eveque, or Parcs, near Alencon, both in Normandy.

PETER. The Christian name, introduced here [England] at the Conquest. It has become the parent of many surnames, as Peter, Peterson, Piers, Pierce, Pearse, Pearce, Pears, Peers, Pierson, Pearson, Peterken, Perkin, Perkins, Purkess and Purkis, Perk, Pyrke, Perks, Perkes, PARK, PARKS, PARKES, Parkin, Parkyn, Parkins, Parkinson, and perhaps Porson and Parsons.

The Old Parke Families of America.

The history of the Parke emigrants from the Old Countries to America and the achievements of their descendants, should be of the greatest interest to all who bear the name. By PARKE we mean Park, Parke, Parks and the various other spellings to which the original name has been corrupted through the lapse of time, the ignorance of town officials and various other causes.

The exact number of those bearing the family names who have emigrated to this Country will probably never be known. Those who came before the Revolutionary War, and their descendants born before that time, we have a comparatively complete record of. Those who came since, and many descendants of the older families who have been born since then, have moved from one part of the Country to another so often, and, in many instances, have kept so little record of the births and deaths, that many will probably never be able to trace their ancestry.

The public records, both church and state, of births, marriages and deaths in this Country, were remarkably well kept from the earliest settlements up to the time of the Revolution. About that time many of the young men, and some of the older ones too, apparently discovered, possibly through service in the war, that there was much fertile land in the undeveloped sections of the Country. Then began the emigration from the older and more crowded parts to the sections where land was cheaper, and each could have as much as he wanted. Many of these emigrants took up their residences in the virgin forests, miles from their nearest neighbors.

It was then a terrific struggle for existence; and it is no wonder that they had no time to keep records of their family affairs such as births, marriages and deaths. All the information that some of the descendants now have concerning this period is a tradition, often erroneous, that their ancestor "came from such and such a State."

It is at this point in his researches that the delver for family history meets with the greatest difficulty in tracing pedigrees; and so it has been with the Parke history. To make it more difficult, some have not known the names of their grandfathers and but few indeed have any knowledge of their great-grandfathers.

The first of the name who came to America was Robert<sup>1</sup> Parke. He came with Winthrop, in the ship "Arbella," in 1630, landing at Salem or Boston. He probably lived at Roxbury for a while and then moved to Connecticut and became quite a prominent man, holding a number of high offices in the Colony. His three sons, William<sup>2</sup>, Thomas<sup>3</sup> and Samuel<sup>4</sup> also came; William and Thomas probably about 1630 and Samuel somewhat later. William settled in Roxbury and was very prominent in local and Colony affairs; had a number of children but none of his sons grew to manhood. Thomas and Samuel settled in southeastern Connecticut. The majority of their descendants resided there for nearly one hundred and fifty years, and then many of them emigrated to western Massachusetts, Vermont and New York; and from those states have spread all over the Country. Dr. Roswell Park, the eminent surgeon of Buffalo, is one of Robert<sup>1</sup> Parke's descendants; as are many others prominent in affairs in New York and elsewhere.

Richard Parke came from London in the ship "Defence," in 1635, and settled in Cambridge, afterwards called Cambridge Farms and now known as Newton, Mass. His descendants resided in that neighborhood for about a century and then some of them emigrated to Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York. Though some still reside in and near Cambridge, others can be found in nearly every State in the Union. Prof. Edwards Amasa Park was a descendant of this family.

Edward Parks appeared in Killingworth, Conn., about 1669. He was a tailor, and was possibly a son of Edward Parks, a wealthy tailor of London, whose will was probated in 1650. His descendants early emigrated to Vermont and New York, and from there to the western States; where many have become prosperous bankers and lawyers. Judge Samuel C. Parks, of Kansas City, lifelong friend of Abraham Lincoln, is among them.

Daniel Parke was an early settler in Virginia. His grave is at Bruton Churchyard, at Williams Bay, and upon the walls of the church is a tablet with the following inscription:

"Neare this marble lyes
HONORABLE DANIEL PARKE
Of ye County of Essex, Esquire,
Who was one of his Majesty's Councillors
And sometime Secretary of the Colony.

Of the County of Surry, Esquire.
She died

Colonel Daniel Parke was adjutant of the Duke of Marlborough at the Battle of Blenheim, and carried the news of that victory to the Queen. It has been said that he was knighted for that service, and was also presented with her miniature, set in a beautiful frame of diamonds, which he always wore upon his breast thereafter. He had many descendants in Virginia; the children of Martha Parke Custis, the wife of George Washington, being among them. It is possible that the Daniel mentioned in the epitaph was the father of the Daniel of Blenheim fame; as the great battle occurred Aug. 13, 1704, twenty-five years after the death of the first mentioned Daniel.

Roger Park appeared at Rye, N. Y., as early as 1699. There is a family tradition that he was a French Huguenot and fled from France in consequence of the persecution of the Protestants at the time of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685. His descendants resided for many years in the vicinity of Rye, and probably some settled in New Jersey. Some have been successful merchants in New York city. Mr. Joseph Park, of the firm of Park & Tilford, was a descendant of this family.

William Parks published the "Virginia Gazette," at Williamsburg, Va., in 1704. There are many Parks families in Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, and it is possible that some are his descendants.

Alexander Park came to America the winter of 1728-9, and landed in Boston. It is said that he came from Antrim, Ireland. He lived in Metheun, Mass., for a number of years and then moved to Windham, N. H. His descendants, many of whom were brick and stone masons, have resided in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Among them may be mentioned Prof. John Park, who was the head of Park's well known school for young ladies, in the early days of the nineteenth century; and John G. Park, the famous lawyer, abolitionist and member of the Mass. legislature for many years.

X Arthur Parke appeared in Chester county, Pennsylvania in the early part of the eighteenth century. A descendant says that he came from Ballybegley, Ireland, and emigrated from Donegal county to America in 1724. Some of the descendants became prominent in military affairs. John Parke, who was appointed an Assistant Quartermaster on General Washington's personal staff, was a descendant of Arthur Parke.

Peter Park was married at Stonington, Conn., in 1748. A descendant, Rev. C. C. Park, of North Amherst, Ohio, wrote that Peter was an emigrant from Scotland.

William Park arrived in Boston, in 1756, and immediately settled in Groton, Mass. His three sons John, Thomas and James followed later. This family resided in Groton, and a number of the descendants are still living in Massachusetts; some in Groton.

There were other families in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia previous to 1800, of which we have been able to obtain only fragmentary details in nine years' research.

English Families.

When a pedigree has been traced to the original American emigrant, one is naturally desirous of learning something of his antecedents in the Old Country. It is to be regretted that nothing positive can be said at this time in regard to the ancestry of Richard Parke, of Cambridge.

While there were many Parke families in England about the year 1600, and a number of Richards among them; our Richard's ancestry has not been definitely traced.

One correspondent states that he was a descendant of Thomas Parks, of Wednesbury in the county of Stafferd. There was a family there as the following from the History of Wednesbury, (London, 1854), will show:

"Thomas Parkes, Gentleman, gave by will, dated Jan. 11, 1602, to the poor people of Wednesbury ten pounds, to be paid yearly by twenty shillings a year to the Vicar of Wednesbury and the church-wardens to the use of the poor, to be given every Good Friday, for ten years." Also the said Thomas Parkes gave a school house, a certain tenement in Wednesbury, and a close called "Clay Pit Leasowe," to maintain a schoolmaster to teach ten poor children of the parish, for the term of four score years after his decease. He also gave a cottage, situate in Wednesbury, to be set apart as an almshouse for two persons, for ever.

"Richard Parkes, Esquire, son of the above Thomas, did by will confirm the above and gave forty shillings more to the school, A. D. 1617." This Richard had Arms granted him in 1615, and died May 7, 1618, aged 55 years; but left no son named Richard.

Another correspondent writes as follows:

"My information is that Richard Parke was son of William Parke and Mary, daughter of Robert Manning and Elizabeth (daughter of William Herbert.) That he was the second of five sons and was born in St. Botolph Parish, London, 5 Jan. 1583. That he married Nov. 9, 1607, Mary Bryan, daughter of Christopher Ward and had four children, all of whom died in infancy. That after the death of his first wife, he married second, Dec. 6, 1618, Joan Pynner, daughter of Henry Pynner; and had Thomas baptized Feb. 6, 1620; Anne bapt. Sept. 16, 1621, d. May 8, 1623; Judith bp. Feb. 1, 1623, buried Aug. 18, 1627; Mary bp. March 19, 1625, buried May 4, 1626; Richard bp. July 27, 1628, buried Jan. 3, 1629; Katharine bp. May 30, 1630, buried June 12, 1630; Henry bp. March 31, 1633, who married Bridget Whittemore and had four children but did not come to this Country. That Joan (Pynner) Parke died April 9, 1633, and that Richard married third, Jan. 2, 1634, Sarah, daughter of William Collier and Isabel, daughter of John Martin; and had a daughter Isabell, born Oct. 19, 1634."

First Generation.

1. RICHARD<sup>(191)</sup> PARKE appeared at Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1635. He was a miller by occupation and a large landowner. Born in England, he sailed from London in the ship "Defence," which left England August 10, 1635 and arrived at Boston October 3, 1635.

xjo die Julij 1635.

Theis vnder-written names are to be transported to New-England imbarqued in the DEFENCE of Lndon Edward Bostock Mr p Certificate of his Conformitie in Religion & that he is no Sub-sedy-man.

A Miller Richard Perk	33	} yeres.
Margery Perk	40
Isabell Perk	7
Elizabeth Perk	4

It is very probable that this is our Richard Parke and that the other names were those of his wife and daughters. It would be interesting to know something about his family in England, and his reasons for coming to America. It is an assured fact that he sailed from London, and it is possible that he had resided in that city previous to his voyage to America; but he may have been a native of some other part of England. It is probable that the reasons which impelled him to leave his old home and take a three-thousand mile journey to an almost unknown wilderness, were the same as those which actuated the majority of the immigrants of that period, namely, a desire for more religious liberty.

It was about this time that King Charles I was curtailing the liberties of the English people. Speaking of this period, Macaulay's History of England says:

This was the conjuncture at which the liberties of the nation were in the greatest peril. The opponents of the government began to despair of the destiny of their country; and many looked to the American wilderness as the only asylum in which they could enjoy civil and spiritual freedom. There a few resolute Puritans, who, in the cause of their religion, feared neither the rage of the ocean nor the hardships of uncivilised life, neither the fangs of savage beasts nor the tomahawks of more savage men, had built, amidst the primeval forests, villages which are now great and opulent cities, but which have, through every change, retained some trace of the character derived from their founders. The government regarded these infant colonies with aversion, and attempted violently to stop the stream of emigration, but could not prevent the population of New England from being largely recruited by stouthearted and Godfearing men from every part of the old England.

Richard Parke was undoubtedly influenced by the unsettled condition of affairs in England, to emigrate to America.

In a letter by William Coddington, Governor of Rhode Island, to Governor Leverett, of Massachusetts, in the year 1674, we find narrated some particulars of his life. Speaking of his early days in 1627 in Lincolnshire, England, he says: "We persecuted not but stood together for the public good." "I was one of those many Lincolnshire Gentlemen that denied the Royal Loan and suffered for it in King Charles the First Days." This circumstance occurred ten years before the celebrated trial of Hampton. —N. E. Hist. & Genealogical Register, Vol. 36, Pp. 138-143.

Among others, "Richard Parke, of fflete, refused to lend or enter bond and is Comanded to appeare at the Counsell boarde the xxijth of this instant March." [1626] Possibly our Richard.

In the "Proprietors' Records of Cambridge," a number of references to Richard Parke are found, as follows:

[1639.] "RICHARD PARKE. One house upon the Cowe Common with halfe an Acre of ground. Persival Greene west, John Wilcock East, Swampe northeast, Cow Common southwest.

"Jt Jn the North side of Jones his Hill two Acres and ten pole of planting ground, William Patten west, Persival Greene East, Richard Champnies & Edward Wenchep south, Cowe Common North."

"A Transcript of the houses and lands of the Inhabitants of the Town of Cambridge given in at a General Court holden at Boston the sixth day of the seventh month, A. D. 1642:

[Page 102.] "RICHARD PARKE. Impr on the Comon one dwellinge house with outhouses and about halfe an Acr of land more or lesse, Nathaneel Sparrowhawk East, Hellen Green west, the pynewampe north, the Comon south.

"ltn In the new west field Two Acr more or lesse Hellen Green East, William Pattin West, Richard Champnyes and Edward Winship south.

"more to Richard Parke to make up his full deuision [division] for his owne house 13:ackr adjoineing the west end of the lott he bought of John Betts."

The Town Records of Cambridge, formerly "Newtowne," mention Richard Parke several times. On

Feb. 8. 1635, among "The names of those men whoe have houses in the Towne at this present as only are to be accounted as houses of the Towne," the name of Richard Parke is recorded as being "by the ffresh Pond." On page 39, in a list made out "9th 4 mo 1652;" Richard Parke had lot No. 78, which contained 100 acres. Page 47, "at a meeting of the Inhabitants of this Towne 10th 9th mo 1656 ffor the Eleccion of Towne officers. Richard Parkes, Edward Shepard, and Robert Parker are chosen Constables for the yeare ensuing, and to Joyne with the afore-said Selectmen." Page 52, 11th 11th Mo 1657, "Mr. Edward Jackson, Jno. Jackson, Richard Parkes & Samuel Hide are appoynted a Committee to lay out and settle the high wayes in reference to the propritors at that end of the Towne, prvided they prjudice not y<sup>e</sup> Towne, otherwise then by crossing vpon any part of the comon, as need shall require." Page 74, "febr 11th 1666." "Nicholas Withe complayneing that he is injured by not hauing his full due granted him on the South Side the river neere Boston line, by reason y<sup>t</sup> at part of the Townes grant was layd into the prpriety of Richard Parkes."

In view of the fact that Richard Parke was a large land-owner in Cambridge at the time, the following curious items from the Watertown records are not understood:

Oct. 19, 1652. "Richard parks Debter to the ministry forty shillings to be paid at the next Spring and he is Discarged vntil this psent Day."

"At a meeting of the Select men
apon the 22th of august 59
att the meeting howse."

"Ordered yt Capt. masan, wth Brother Hastings, should forthwith goe to willi Page & there take order, concerning Rich: Parks & his wife, to let them vnderstand that the Select men doe not allow them, in there abiding, in the towne, except they shall appeare sufficient reason to these two appoynted for the same."

It is possible however that the above referred to his son, Richard<sup>1</sup>.

Jackson's "History of Newton," says in part: "Richard Park was a proprietor in Cambridge 1636, and of Cambridge Farms, Lexington 1642. His house was near the Cow Common in Cambridge. The very ancient dwelling house which was pulled down about 1800, was supposed to have been built by him. It stood within a few feet of the spot now occupied by the Eliot church. Previous to 1652 he owned a large tract of land in the n. w. part of the Village, bounded w. by the Fuller farm, n. by Charles river; e by Dummer farm, and s. and e. by the Mayhew farm (Mr. Edward Jackson's,) containing six hundred acres, which he probably bought of Pastor Shepard or his heirs. By his will 12-5-1665, witnessed by Elder Wiswall and Hugh Mason, he bequeathed to his son Thomas all his houses and lands, after the decease of his wife Sarah. By his inventory dated 19-8-1665, taken by John Sherman and John Spring, the dwelling house, barn, out-houses, and six hundred acres of land adjoining, whereof twenty acres is broken up, is appraised at £660 and twenty-nine acres elsewhere at £100. The whole amount of inventory was £972. During the contest between the Village and Cambridge to be set off, he sent a petition to the Court, in 1661, praying to retain his connection with the Cambridge Ch. In 1663 he was released from training, on account of his age. He d. 1665, leaving wid. Sarah, son Thomas and two daughters. One of the daughters m. Francis Whittemore of Camb. All his property (except the 600 acres and buildings) was equally divided between the two daughters. Thirteen years after his decease, Thomas bought the life estate of the wid. for £45;15s. Her release is dated Sept. 26, 1678, in which she calls herself of Duxbury, in the Colony of New Plymouth, relict of Richard Parke, late of Camb. Village. This transaction would seem to indicate that she was his mother-in-law."

While all previously published accounts give but three children to Richard<sup>1</sup> Parke, and have entirely ignored the existence of a second Richard; there seem to be very good reasons for believing that this second Richard was the oldest son of Richard<sup>1</sup>. [See article by Mr. Tolman on page 31.]

Richard<sup>1</sup> Parke married 1st, Margery —. (One correspondent stated that her name was CRANE.) No record of her death has been found. About 1656 he married 2nd, Sarah, daughter of William and Jane Colier, and widow of Love Brewster. He had no children by the second wife.

4 Isabel<sup>2</sup>, b about 1628-9.

5 Elizabeth<sup>2</sup>, b 1631, in England; d Sept. 19, 1690; m Edward Winship, of Cambridge, as his second wife. Had children.

Second Generation.

2. RICHARD<sup>1</sup> PARKS, (Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born in England, probably before 1628. No record of his voyage to America has been discovered, but he probably came with the rest of the family in 1635, although his name and that of his brother, 'Thomas', do not appear on the passenger list. He lived in Cambridge, Sherborn, Concord and Weston. His wife's name was Mary. On Oct. 14, 1678, Richard Parks, of Cambridge, planter, and his wife Mary, conveyed to Joseph Wilson, "all that tract of land on which I have erected my now dwelling house," etc., As shown in the Cambridge Proprietors' Records of 1642, this is the property which Richard Parke owned at that time.

PARENTAGE OF LT. RICHARD PARKS, OF CONCORD.

By Mr. George Tolan.

(Published by permission of Mrs. C. H. Wheeler, of Concord.)

Dr. Bond says in substance, (page 384 et. seq.) that RICHARD PARKS WAS A PROPRIETOR IN Cambridge in 1636; of Camb. Farms (Lexington) in 1642, and settled in Cambridge Village (Newton) about 1647. His will, dated July 12 1665, mentions wife, not named, a son Thomas, two daughters not named, one of whom married Thomas Whittemore, of Cambridge. His inventory was dated Aug. 19, 1665. His widow Sarah was living at Duxbury in 1668. Thus far Mr. Bond was perfectly in accordance with recorded facts. But here he begins to blunder. He says THOMAS PARKS the only son of Richard died in 1690. He married in Dec. 1653 Abigail Dix and had children: Thomas born 1654; John born 1656, died March 21, 1717-18, had two children by first wife and six by second wife Elizabeth Miller; Abigail born 1659; Edward born 1661; Richard born 21 Dec. 1663; Sarah b 1666; Rebecca born 1668; Jonathan born 1670; Elizabeth born 1679. RICHARD PARKS son of Thomas married 1st Sarah Cutler by whom he had one son, born at Newton; married 2nd Elizabeth Billings of Concord in 1690; settled at Concord; was Lieutenant and Representative, and died at Concord June 19 1725 aged 58 years. His will mentions wife Elizabeth, sons Joseph, Josiah, Jonathan, Isaac, Ephraim, Daniel and Zachens, and daughters Elizabeth Fassett, Sarah Post, Abigail Fiske and Rebecca. Richard his oldest son and the only son by his first wife is not mentioned in the will, but he married and had eight children all born at Newton. On page 866 of the same work, Mr. Bond makes some corrections and additions to the above statement on the authority of Jackson's History of Newton. From this revised statement it is shown that Sarah the wife of the first Richard Parks was a second wife and not the mother of his children. The statement that John Parks whose children were baptized in Weston in 1718 was the son of Thomas of Newton remains uncontradicted and Richard Parks son of same Thomas is still held to be identical with the Richard who came to Concord and married Elizabeth Billings, but in order to get over the recorded facts that Richard son of Thomas had children born in Newton in the years 1690, 1693, 1696 and 1699, the settlement of Richard of Concord, and his marriage with Elizabeth Billings are said to have taken place about the year 1700. These statements of Dr. Bond as corrected by Mr. Jackson, are accepted by Dr. Savage in his Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England, and by the Rev. L. R. Paige in the History of Cambridge; and therefore, having got into print in these several works, all of which are regarded as authorities, are now regarded as truth. It is however quite demonstrable that these writers have confounded two entirely distinct Richards and two entirely distinct Johns.

That Lt. Richard Parks, of Concord, was not identical with Richard, son of Thomas, is easily proved by the following considerations:

1st. Richard Parks and Elizabeth Billings were married according to the Concord records, May 14, 1690. They had children Joseph born 1691, Elizabeth born 1692, Sarah born 1696 Josiah born 1698 and Abigail born 1700; just in the very decade of years that Richard the son of Thomas, was on Mr. Jackson's authority having quite a different lot of children born at Newton.

2nd. Lt. Richard Parks, of Concord, died June 19, 1725, in the 58th year of his age; his tombstone being the authority. This would bring his birth in the year 1667 or 1668. While according to Dr. Bond, Richard the son of Thomas was born Dec. 21, 1663, and was thus four or five years older than the Lt. Richard of Concord.

3rd. In the record of the births of his children at Concord, Lt. Richard is frequently called Richard Parks JR. This of itself would imply that there was a Richard Parks SENIOR, then living at Concord. But the only Richard, who according to Dr. Bond and the others, was a senior to the Lieutenant, had died a quarter of a century before. Now, as a matter of fact, both Richard Parks Senior and Richard Parks Jr., were living in the south west quarter of Concord in the year 1689, and were assessed a highway tax, as shown by Concord Records. In 1687 only one Richard Parks was so assessed; plainly because the younger was not of full age. In 1693 both of them are reported as being still in default of their respective proportions of the tax assessed two years before for building the great bridge. Both names, still differentiated by the terms senior and junior, appear from time to time on the records of the town from 1693 to 1711, where the distinguishing term disappears and thereafter there is but one Richard, uniformly designated as Lieutenant.

It is plain then, that Lieutenant Richard Parks of Concord, and the Richard born in 1663, son of Thomas of Newton, can not have been one and the same.

The difficulty goes further back, to a Richard Parks whom these authorities have never detected; the Richard Parks Senior of Concord. On Oct. 14, 1678, Richard Parks of Cambridge, planter, and his wife MARY convey to Joseph Wilson, "all that tract of land on which I have erected my now dwelling house in Cambridge Village on the south side of Charles River, being six acres and bounding on Noah Wiswall, Daniel Preston, Thomas Wise, Thomas Hammond, James Trowbridge, and Deliverance Jackson."—(Rec. Mid'x. Deeds VIII, 64). Now the first Richard Parks had been dead 13 years; Richard of Newton, (son of Thomas) the second Richard in Dr. Bond's tracing, was not yet old enough to have married a wife, or to have built a dwelling house, or to convey real estate; so it is quite plain here is a Richard whom all the authorities have entirely ignored. Notwithstanding the fact that the first Richard dying in 1665, named in his will no son but Thomas, I am still convinced that this Richard of Cambridge Village was his son, who being older than his brother Thomas, had already received his portion of his father's estate during the lifetime of his father. The will of the first Richard Parks is a curious document; written partly in the first person and partly in the third person; obviously dictated; not mentioning by name his wife or either of his daughters, and with a meaningless and shapeless blot in place of a signature, as if the hand that held the pen were already too weak to write. Apparently the instrument was drawn up very hurriedly, perhaps while the testator was in articulo Mortis, and was intended to record his wishes already known and acquiesced in by his heirs, as to the disposition of his property; which wishes, if he were to die intestate, might be defeated by the administration of his estate, under the requirements of the common law. That in such an instrument as that he should have omitted all mention of a son who had been already provided for, and who was satisfied with such provision, is not strange.

In the year 1682, and perhaps earlier, Richard Parks and his wife Mary appear at Sherborn, and on March 18, 1686-7 they convey to Daniel Bigelow ten acres of land in that place (Rec. Mid'x Deeds XIII 516). The deed by which Richard Parks came into possession of this Sherborn property appears not to have been recorded. Immediately after selling out at Sherborn he bought from Nathaniel Billings eaytheene (18) acres of upland &c.. copy of deed acknowledged before Peter Bulkeley on May 26, 1687. It was never recorded. He must have purchased more land in same locality; for on April 9, 1711, Richard Parks, senior and his wife Mary and John Parks and wife Deliverence, all of Concord, sell and convey unto Richard Parks Jr., of said Concord, a certain messuage or tenement containing two dwelling houses, and two barns and thirty acres of upland, in south part of Concord and bounding on land of Joseph Da—ey, John Smith, Daniel Dean, and John Heywood. This deed, as well as several others from various grantors to Lieut. Richard Parks, appears to have escaped record until after Lt. Richard's death when they were all recorded at once, probably to facilitate the settlement of the estate. The land was in the extreme southerly corner of Concord, old bounds, now Lincoln and touching on the boundary of Weston, not far from the present Silver Hill station of the Fitchburg R. R., and some portion of it yet remains in the possession of Lt. Richard Parks's descendants.

John Parks, husband of Deliverance, was a son of Richard and Mary. Find no record of his birth or that of Lieutenant Richard. They must have been born before their parents left Cambridge for Sherborn.

John Parks sold his birthright to Lieut. Richard, removed to Weston with his wife and two daughters; and father and mother went there also, for it is recorded in Vol. II of the Middlesex Court records, page 316, under date of Aug. 30, 1715 that: "At his Majesty's Court of General Sessions of ye Peace holden at Concord the Selectmen of Weston are allowed to enter their caution against one Richard Parks, and his wife Mary, both being aged and impotent persons, being inhabitants of their town, having been warned by a constable pursuant to law, to remove out of their town." Here we must leave our newly discovered Richard and Mary, parents of Lieut. Richard Parks. From and after the marriage of Lieut. Richard Parks and Elizabeth Billings, at Concord in 1690, the line of their children is easily traced. . . .

3. THOMAS<sup>c</sup> PARKE, (Richard<sup>d</sup>), was born in England about 1628-9, and probably came to America with his father in the ship "Defence," in 1635, although his name does not appear on the passenger list. He died Aug. 11, 1690. He was a farmer, and his house was near Bruce's (or Bemis's) mill on the bank of the Charles river. He married Abigail Dix, Dec. 1, 1653, a daughter of Edward and Jane (Wilkinson) Dix. She was born May 21, 1637, and died Feb. 3, 1691. The Town Records of Cambridge, under date of April 12, 1665, say that Thomas Parkes was chosen a Constable "for the yeare ensuing." He was admitted Freeman of Cambridge, May 31, 1671. He settled upon the 600 acre tract formerly owned by his father. His estate was divided among his heirs in 1693-4. It then comprised 722 acres and part of a corn-mill on Smelt brook erected by Lt. John Spring.

Third Generation.

6. JOHN<sup>3</sup> PARK, (Richard<sup>2</sup>, Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born probably at Concord, Mass. He married Deliverance Jackson. From Middlesex deeds: "John Parks of Concord bought land in Concord March 27, 1697. April 9, 1711, he sold land in Concord and bought land in Weston." In 1725, while living at Stonington, Conn., he bought land at Stafford, Conn. The Church Records of Weston have the following: "Sept. 14, 1717, Deliverance and Mary Parks, children of John, owned Covenant. Sept. 14, 1718, Deliverance and Mary, adult children of John, baptized. March 4, 1721-2, Deliverance Parks, wife of John, recommended to church of Killingly, Conn." Town Records of Weston; 1727-8: "John Parks, then of Killingly, gave up right where deceased father, Richard Parks, did formerly dwell, in the southerly part of Concord."

7. RICHARD<sup>2</sup> PARKS, (Richard<sup>2</sup>, Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born about 1667; lived at Concord, where he became a large land owner, and died there June 19, 1725, aged 58 years. He married Elizabeth (Hastings) Billings, of Concord, July 14, 1690. She died June 27, 1756, æ. 87. He was a Lieut., and was also a Representative of Concord. His will, dated June 8, 1725, mentioned wife Elizabeth; sons Joseph, Josiah, Jonathan, Isaac, Ephraim, Daniel and Zaccheus; daughters Abigail Fiske, Elizabeth Fassett, Sarah Post and Rebecca. One clause of his will left to his son Joseph land and buildings where he now improves reserving only the fruit of an orchard "which was formerly my Hon'd Fathers."

8. JOHN<sup>2</sup> PARKE, (Thomas<sup>2</sup>, Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born Sept. 6, 1656, and died March 21, 1718. He was twice married. His second wife's name was Elizabeth

Miller, who he married April 5, 1694. He was a distinguished soldier in the Colonial wars and was severely wounded at the battle of Northfield, 1675, "in the elbow joint and the bone broken," etc. His petition says it was "in the fight in which Captain Beers was killed." The Cambridge Probate Records state that John Park was appointed Admr. of his estate May 12, 1719. Wife Elizabeth and children John, Solomon, Elizabeth, Abigail, Joseph and Mary are mentioned.

34. JOSEPH<sup>4</sup> PARKE, (John<sup>3</sup>, Thomas<sup>2</sup>, Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born at Newton, Mass., March 12, 1705, and died at Westerly, R. I., March 1, 1777. He married Abigail Greene, June 15, 1732. She died Oct. 19, 1772, æ. 68. He was a graduate of Harvard in 1724; received the degree of B. A., and subsequently that of A. M. He was a missionary to the Indians in Rhode Island. "Westerly and Its Witnesses," says:

This good, laborious, tried and faithful man died at his home in Westerly in the 72nd year of his age and the forty-fifth of his successful ministry.

From "Westerly Settlers, No. 9:"

In 1733, five years before the division of the town of Westerly and a hundred years after the settlement of the Plymouth Colony, the Commissioners of the Government at Boston appointed to send out missionaries to the Indians, sent out Rev. Mr. Park, a Congregational minister to organize a church of that persuasion or to preach God's word in its simplicity to the Narragansett tribe of Indians. After laboring nine years unsuccessfully with the Indians, who were forbidden by their chief to have dealings with or listen to preaching from the whites, Rev. Mr. Parke was not without encouragement in his work among the English and natives. A great revival sprang up and many were added to the church. This caused an enquiry among the Indians and more than a hundred joined the congregation.

On a tombstone near where the meeting house stood is the inscription, still legible: "In memory of Rev. Joseph Park, who died March 1, 1777, He was a faithful minister of the Gospel, a great patriot, a kind husband, tender parent, a great friend to the widow and fatherless and an excellent neighbor." Thinking the law of God superior to that of man, he succored a woman not belonging to the Parish who was ill of the small-pox, taking her to his own house "when she seemed like to starve." Defending himself in this action to the authorities he preached a sermon the text of which was: "Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord; and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?"—Jeremiah, V chapter, 9th verse.

He married Elizabeth (or Betsey) Ruckman, of Malden, 1784. The following is taken from a newspaper printed in 1838:

"In Cambridgeport, Maj. Leonard Parks, aged 78. Mr. Parks was a soldier of the revolution. He was at the battle of Lexington as a fifer, and was then 14 years old. He was also at the battle of Bunker Hill, in the regiment of Col. Gardner of Cambridge. He enlisted in the northern army, and was at the taking of Burgoyne, and being transferred to the main army, he was also at the battles of Trenton and Princeton, and Brandywine. From that time, until his age prevented, he was an eminent fifer in this neighborhood. He lived by his industry until he was 70, and has since received a pension from his country which he so faithfully served."

Rufus Parks was a lawyer and was admitted to practice in Penobscot county, Me., in 1832. In 1836 he went to Wisconsin, having been appointed Receiver of Public Moneys at Milwaukee, by President Jackson; which position he also filled under President VanBuren. When Wisconsin was admitted into the Union, in 1848, he was chosen member of the first constitutional convention. For four years he held the office of Superintendent of Public Property, 1858-62. In 1867 he was elected a member of the legislature. He was a zealous and efficient public officer; prompt and untiring in the exercise of his duties. He was a man of strong convictions and unflinching integrity, and brought from New England those qualities of patriotism, courage and morality, which he, and other men of his class, succeeded in so firmly engrafting on the then youthful and growing commonwealth of Wisconsin. In manner he was simple and unassuming; in disposition genial and courteous. A warm and steadfast friend, a kind and considerate husband and happy father.

543. LUTHER' PARKS, (Luther<sup>a</sup>, Samuel<sup>a</sup>, Ephraim<sup>a</sup>, Richard<sup>a</sup>, Richard<sup>a</sup>, Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born in Boston, Nov. 4, 1823, and died at Pau, France, Nov. 19, 1886. He married Julia Dale, June 1, 1848, at Boston, the daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Lincoln) Dale. She was born at Springfield, July 8, 1827, and died at Swampscott, Aug. 24, 1859. Luther Parks was a physician of note in Boston for many years. He graduated from Harvard in 1843, eighth in his class; and received the degree of A. M. Four years later he received the degree of M. D., and then served in the Massachusetts General Hospital. He witnessed the first operation under ether. He went to Ireland before his marriage as surgeon of the dismantled sloop of war Jamestown, which carried bread to the starving Irish; and was made a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Ireland; an honor which he valued extremely. After his marriage he again went to Ireland and studied under Churchill at the Rotunda Lying-in Hospital, in Dublin. He practiced at the South End in Boston for about eleven years with especial attention to obstetrics but was also an excellent all around physician. He was not especially a surgeon, and the modern art of gynaecology did not exist. After virtually retiring from practice he was for some years editor of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal. In the Civil War, at the request of Gov. Andrew, he went to the Peninsular with two or three other Boston doctors, and rode from Yorktown over ground strewn with mines which might explode on contact with the horse's shoe, to Williamsburg. He did not, however, receive a commission.

tor at Braintree, Mass., 1831-3; Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy at Amherst College 1835-6; Professor of Sacred Rhetoric at Amherst Theological Seminary 1836-47; Professor of Christian Theology at Andover 1847-81. He spent several years in Europe at different times; at Hanover and at the Universities of Marburg, Berlin and Halle, and also in Great Britain, Italy Palestine, Egypt and Greece. He began to write for the secular press in 1826 and for religious publications in 1828. He published a number of pamphlets, many of which were repeatedly republished. Some started controversies; one of which was his "Dudleian Lecture," at Harvard College in 1845, on the "Intellectual and Moral Influence of Romanism." This was controverted in an elaborate review by Dr. Orestes A. Brownson, who had then recently joined the Catholic Communion. His sermon delivered in 1850 before the Congregational ministers of Massachusetts, "Theology of the Intellect and that of the Feelings," called forth a number of replies, to which Prof. Park responded in three separate pamphlets. He did a great deal of editorial work. In 1839, in connection with Prof. B. B. Edwards, he translated and edited an octavo volume of 472 pages, entitled "Selections from German Literature." In connection with Prof. Austin Phelps, D. D., and Dr. Lowell Mason, he compiled and edited the "Sabbath Hymn Book," which within the period from 1859 to 1866 reached a circulation of about 120,000. In 1844 Prof. Edwards and Prof. Park established the "Bibliotheca Sacra" on its new plan, and Prof. Park was editor-in-chief from 1851 to 1884. A complete list of his writings would make quite a catalogue. For more than thirty years he was president of the Board of trustees of Abbott Academy at Andover; by the will of its founder he was appointed one of the original trustees of Smith College at Northampton; from 1863 he was a member of the Board of Fellows of Brown University. He was a member of the Victoria Institute in England and of several historical societies in the United States.

690. TRENOR W<sup>t</sup>. PARK, (Luther<sup>s</sup>, William<sup>s</sup>, Nathan<sup>s</sup>, Edward<sup>s</sup>, Thomas<sup>s</sup>, Richard<sup>s</sup>), was born at Woodford, Vt., Dec. 8, 1823, and died at sea Dec. 13, 1882. He married Laura V. S. Hall, Dec. 15, 1846. She was born Jan. 27, 1828, and died June 21, 1875. At the age of twelve he became a clerk in a grocery store in Troy, N. Y. He bought out this store in two years, and began to read law in his spare hours. He never had school advantages; but was admitted to the bar in his native State and rose at once to prominence. His wife was a daughter of Hon. Hiland Hall, who successively held the offices of representative in Congress for twelve consecutive years, Governor of Vermont, Justice of the Supreme Court, and afterwards one of the U. S. Land Commission under President Fillmore. Mr. Park built the Harlem Extension R. R., from Rutland through Bennington to Harlem, N. Y., and was, at his death, the principal owner and its President. He removed to California in 1854 and entered the law firm of Halleck, Peachy, Billings and Park. He was prosecuting attorney for the San Francisco Vigilant Committee of 1856, and was instrumental in hanging four of the murderers. He was one of the builders of the Panama R. R., and was president of the road and principal owner when he died. He was the first who attempted to tunnel the Hudson river, and lost half a million dollars in the failure of that undertaking; but the many tunnels now running into New York are evidence of his good judgement. He accumulated several millions by his large legal practice and his various successful business enterprises. A most generous giver and friend of the poor, yet he left several millions at his death.

840. MARSHALL OTT<sup>s</sup> PARKS, (Marshall<sup>r</sup>, Leonard<sup>s</sup>, David<sup>s</sup>, Joseph<sup>s</sup>, Richard<sup>s</sup>, Richard<sup>s</sup>, Richard<sup>1</sup>), was born at Old Point, Va., Nov. 8, 1820, and died at Norfolk, Va., June 12, 1900. He married Sophie Chauner Jackson, June 6, 1855, at Norfolk. A descendant says that she was a great-neice of Sir William Congrieve, of England, the poet and dramatist; who is buried in Westminster Abbey. Mr. Parks succeeded his father as superintendent of the Dismal Swamp Canal Company, and while holding that position he conceived the plan of building another canal, which would be a shorter cut for vessels to and from the waters of North Carolina. This canal was built and he was President of the company for many years. Shortly after becoming interested in the canal, Commodore Parks purchased a large tract of land on the Virginia coast and erected thereon a hotel, which he called "The Hollies," and while at the time it was thought by many that it would never become what the promoter desired and believed—a famous seaside resort—even this was but the beginning, and the end is not yet. The construction of a narrow-gauge railroad between Norfolk and Virginia Beach was also one of the enterprises carried out by this man of many resources, so that he was the father of the Princess Anne Hotel and the present standard gauge road connecting the two places. Commodore Parks always took an active interest in all affairs concerning the city of his adoption. For a number of years he was a member of the City Councils, and in 1872 served a term in the State Legislature. The only public office he ever held was Supervising Inspector of Steamboats, which position he filled during the first term of President Cleveland. He was a candidate for Congress from Norfolk at one time, but was defeated. Commodore Parks was a man as widely known perhaps as any man in Virginia, and his fund of information on almost any subject was unusually large. He was one who always had a kind word for everybody, and his reminiscences were very interesting. During the Civil War he served in the Confederate States navy, having been in the navy of the State of North Carolina at the breaking out of the war.

He married Sarah Billings Edwards, March 4, 1874, at Andover, daughter of Bela Bates Edwards. She was born Nov. 18, 1836. Rev. Mr. Park was fitted for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, studying under the direction of the famous Dr. Samuel H. Taylor. Graduated from Yale University in 1861, and from Andover Theological Seminary in 1867. He was one of the first party of teachers sent from the North to educate the Southern freedmen, and labored in the work during the spring and summer of 1862. He served also on the Coristian Commission during the Civil War and preached to Union soldiers and white refugees during the spring of 1864. He was ordained pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Lawrence, Mass., in Nov. 1867, and remained there eight years. In June, 1876 he was installed as pastor of the Congregational Church in Gloversville, N. Y., and remained in the position twenty-eight years. In June, 1904, he removed to Oberlin, Ohio, where he has since been engaged in literary work. Dr. Park has made six trips to Europe; one of them including visits to Egypt, the Holy Land, Constantinople and Greece. He has made three journeys to the Pacific coast, two of them to Alaska and one to Southern California. He has at various times filled the following positions: Corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; four times Delegate to National Congregational Councils; three times Moderator of the New York state Congregational Association; trustee of the New York state Home Missionary Society for seventeen years and vice-president of the same body; state Secretary for N. Y., of the Congregational Church Building Society; Corresponding and afterwards Recording Secretary of the Fulton and Hamilton County Bible Society; President of the Yale Alumni Association, of Eastern N. Y.; President of the Yale Alumni Association, of Fulton county, N. Y.; Moderator of the Ministerial Association of Oberlin, Ohio, and moderator of several ecclesiastical councils in N. Y. state. She married John G. McCullough, Aug. 30, 1871, son of Alexander and Rebecca (Griffith) McCullough. He was born Sept. 16, 1835, in Welsh Tract, near Newark, Delaware; graduated from Delaware College at the head of his class in 1855; studied law in Philadelphia, and graduated at the law school of the University of Pennsylvania in 1858, and was admitted to the bar the same year. He was obliged to leave Philadelphia, owing to ill health, and went to California, arriving there in Dec. 1859. He was elected to the General Assembly of California in 1861, and to the State Senate in 1862, where he made a brilliant record. He was Attorney General from 1863 to 1867, and the position he held is shown in the dedication to him of the recent History of the Bench and Bar of California, "as a light to the early bar of California, and for his brilliant administration of the office of Attorney General." He practiced law in San Francisco until 1873, when he returned east and settled in Bennington, Vt., his wife's home. He has since devoted his energies to railroad, financial and commercial interests. He was for eight years Vice President and General Manager of the Panama Railroad, and after Mr. Park's death in 1882, at the earnest solicitation of M. de Lesseps and the French owners, he became President and continued so until his resignation in 1888. In 1884 he became a director in the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad, and in 1888 chairman of the Executive Committee. In 1893 he was appointed by the Court one of the receivers in the suit which resulted in the reorganization of the road as the Erie Railroad, of which company he is now a director. For more than ten years he was President of the Chicago and Erie Railroad and for more than sixteen President of the Bennington Railroad. He is now President of the First National Bank, of North Bennington, Vt., and director in many companies, including the National Life Insurance Co., of Vt., the Central Vermont R. R., the Fidelity and Casualty Company, American Trading Company, New York and New Jersey R. R., Atcherson, Topeka and Santa Fe R. R., Lackawanna Steel Co., and Bank of New York; and is Trustee of Middleburg College and of the University of Vermont. In spite of his many other engagements he has always taken an active interest in politics. He was a member of the Republican National Conventions in 1880, 1888 and 1900. In 1898 he was State Senator from Bennington County, Vt., and president pro tem. of the Senate. In 1902 he was Governor. The honorary degree of LL. D., was conferred upon him by Middleburg in 1900, the University of Vermont in 1904 and Norwich University in 1905.

came Vice-president of the American Trading Company, of New York City; and in 1887 went to Japan on behalf of the company. On his return he took an active part in building up the company, which now has extensive connections throughout the East and with South America. After the death of his father-in-law he became the head of Catlin & Company, one of the leading wholesale dry goods firms of New York City. All his life he was an enthusiastic yachtsman and was a prominent member of the New York, the Larchmont, the Eastern and the American Yacht Clubs, of the last of which he was Commodore at the time of his death. His auxiliary steam yacht "Sultana," in which he took his wedding trip, was built under his personal supervision. He was one of the very few yachtsmen who had a master's license and was able to navigate his own boat. He was a most skillful sailor and took great interest in the small racing boats sailed by amateurs. In 1906 he built the "Vim" especially to compete for the Roosevelt Cup, in the races with Germany off Marblehead, and won three out of the five races. He was a shrewd and sagacious business man and most honorable in all his dealings. Personally he was quiet and retiring and of a peculiarly lovable disposition. All who met him, whether in business or socially, were attracted to him, and he left a host of devoted friends.

1355. WILLIAM HENRY PARK, (William E', William', William', Nathan', Edward', Thomas', Richard'), was born at Woodford, Vt., March 1, 1837, and died there Aug. 4, 1906. He married Josephine Emerson, Dec. 20, 1866, at Boston. She was the daughter of Joseph and Lydia (Howard) Emerson. She was born Sept. 8, 1840, and was living at Boston in 1908. Mr. Park resided at Boston where he was ever active in the public interest. With no aspirations for public office, he yet stood as a candidate of the Prohibition party, of which he was a prominent member, for Senator of Massachusetts, also for Governor, and for many years was elected delegate to state conventions. He was a member of many associations and boards of public interest. He stood ready to serve wherever duty called. For sixteen years he served as Deacon of the Fifth Baptist Church, Charlestown, Mass., and faithfully, ideally fulfilled every trust. In the business world he was well known. Trusted, respected, beloved and successful, he carried the ever kindly Christian spirit into daily dealings, uniformly trusting his associates and being trusted in turn. In the hurry and bustle of business life he worked always in the Master's service, feeling that he might never pass that way again. Men sought him in affliction, in business adversity, and found him ever ready to extend a helping hand. Generous, kind, unselfish and conscientious through life, few persons leave such noble and unsullied memories. A memorial service was held for him in Boston, also one in Woodford, Vt. His earthly remains were laid in the Woodford cemetery, where four generations of this Park family rest; the earliest being William Park, of Uxbridge.

" ' Servant of God, well done,
 So doth the Master greet,
 And so with solemn aptitude
 Our saddened hearts repeat."

FIFTH GENERATION.

59. ANDREW HORATIO<sup>1</sup> PARK, (Alexander<sup>1</sup>, Andrew<sup>2</sup>, Robert<sup>2</sup>, Alexander<sup>1</sup>), was born at Windham, N. H., April 11, 1819, and died Feb. 22, 1897. He married 1st, Sophronia Walton, May 18, 1855, daughter of Jonathan Tarbell, and Sarah Harrison (Rugg) Walton. She was born July 14, 1827, and died July 12, 1862. He married 2nd, Mrs. Sarah F. Allen, April 18, 1864, a sister of his first wife. She was born Feb. 19, 1833. Mr. Park was blind from birth; but in spite of this very serious drawback he made a success of life. Until his thirteenth year he attended school in the "old red schoolhouse," where his lessons were read to him. and he readily understood and committed them to memory. At the age of 13 he went to the Institution For The Blind, at South Boston, Mass., and remained a pupil there for seven years, and afterwards as teacher for some time; teaching natural philosophy, astronomy, algebra and geometry; being connected with the institution for more than thirty years. He was a born mathematician, having a most surprising power of doing sums in his head. While in Boston at school he formed the acquaintance of the late Rev. Thomas Hill, who was at one time President of Harvard College. Mr. Hill was a genius with figures and well versed in science. He read mathematics to Mr. Park, and together they solved knotty problems with great enthusiasm. They also formed a warm personal friendship which lasted through life. In his younger days Mr. Park made a thorough study of astronomy, which interested him greatly, and he obtained a remarkable knowledge of that science. He used to go about lecturing on the subject, illustrating his meaning by the use of diagrams on cloth prepared for the purpose, which he would hold up to the audience one after the other as he came to them. About the year 1852 he visited a friend of his, who was also blind, and embarked in business as a book agent on his own account. The most remarkable part of it was that he made a financial success of it. He went about from house to house in the country on horseback, with a hired boy on another horse for a guide. In 1855 he married Sophronia Walton, of Reading, and they kept house in Lowell, Mass., for several years. During that time he was engaged in teaching at the Institution in Boston, going down on the train in the morning and returning at night unattended. After his second marriage he bought a farm, and with characteristic enthusiasm entered upon his new life as a farmer. With one of his small boys to guide him he would rake hay, or go to mill with a barrel of corn on a hand cart. He used to milk the cows and cut their fodder and feed them, until the small boys grew up. He loved good music and played the flute and piano. He recognized people by their voices, and when in his prime never made a mistake. The secret of his going about alone so readily was his knowledge of echo and the quickness of his hearing. All solid objects reflect sound, and as he went about he was continually listening to the echo of his footsteps. Sound that we would not notice at all meant something to him. He could tell whether he was walking past a house or a picket by the difference in sound thrown back to him. He would step into a strange room, and if it were empty, walk to the middle, make a clacking noise with his mouth, and then tell within a foot how long, how broad and how high it was. If it was full of furniture the echo would not be so good. He encouraged reading in his family and had a lively interest in what was going on in the world about him, and took great delight in having the daily paper read to him as long as he lived. With his wonderful memory and active brain he was always ready to discuss almost any subject. In order to understand how this universe seemed to him we must imagine everything existing without color, or the various shades of light and dark that mean so much to us. When we consider how he was handicapped in the beginning of life's battle, we must agree that he fought courageously and well and his example should encourage those of faint heart. During the greater part of his life he was buoyant and happy; more so than the average man who can see.

William Park, of Groton, Mass., and His Descendants.

BY LAWRENCE PARK.

Member of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society.

1. WILLIAM<sup>1</sup> PARK, was the son of William and Janet (Reid) Park, of Glasgow, Scotland, and was baptized at Balornoch, a Glasgow parish, on Oct. 7, 1705. I learn from a memorandum written by his grandson, Stuart James<sup>1</sup> Park, that he lived in Scotland until 1756, "and sometime in that year he came to America" and landed in Boston. He moved, probably soon after, to Westford, Mass., and about 1760 to that part of Groton, Mass., now within the limits of the town of Ayer, where the remainder of his life was spent. By occupation he was a worker in stone; hammering and lettering stone and making grave-stones. He was "tall in statue, vigorous and athletic," and in mind "sound and discriminating, well disciplined and educated." In religion he was a staunch Presbyterian. He married at Glasgow, May 6, 1730, Anna Law, who was born in 1704, probably in Scotland. She came to this Country in 1765 with her sons James and Thomas. Of her, her grandson says: "She was an industrious, intelligent and good woman and retained in a wonderful degree her faculties, both physical and mental, to the last of her life." She died at Groton, Oct. 2, 1789, and is buried beside her husband in the old burying ground in Groton. He died in Groton, June 17, 1788.

Children:

2 John<sup>2</sup>, b March 15, 1731.

3 James<sup>2</sup>, b March 19, 1741, in Glasgow; d Feb. 23, 1778, at Groton; unm;

4 Thomas<sup>2</sup>, b probably in 1745.

5 Margaret<sup>2</sup>, m Alex. Fisher; never came to America.

6 Janet<sup>2</sup>; unm; never came to America.

SECOND GENERATION.

2. JOHN<sup>2</sup> PARK, (William<sup>1</sup>), was born at Glasgow, (probably), March 15, 1731. He married Jean Stewart, June 2, 1758. She was born Feb. 12, 1732. He was a stone mason, "a good draftsman and a very ingenious mechanic and an intelligent and judicious man." In 1760 he was engaged by the Duke of Argyll in work on his castle at Inveraray, Scotland, and in laying out the grounds of the Duke's estate. This work occupied him for seven years, and in 1767, accompanied by his wife and three children, he sailed for America and landed in Boston, Aug. 17, 1767, and went immediately to Groton. He had been there only a few years when he received repeated letters from the Duke of Argyll containing liberal offers for him to return to Scotland and take charge of the Duke's establishment. At length he decided to accept and went to Boston to engage his passage. He found upon arriving there that the harbor had just been blockaded by the British fleet, so he returned to Groton. He bought four hundred acres of land in Groton, some of which is still in the possession of his descendants; and shortly before his death built, for his occupancy, the first brick house in Groton; which is still standing, though now in the town of Ayer. In 1784-88 he was engaged in building a stone jail at Worcester, which was considered the second stone building of importance in the commonwealth. In 1789 he built the stone jail at Concord, Mass., and in 1793, while engaged in constructing the jail at Amherst, N. H., he met with an accident which caused his death on the following day, Aug. 15, 1793. His wife died at Groton, April 25, 1793, and both are buried in the old burying ground at Groton. He was a Whig, and in his religious views a Presbyterian, and says his son: "Somewhat rigid in the practical observance of them, but liberal towards those whose religious opinions differed from his own." The Census of 1790 records him at Groton with two boys over 16, one under 16 and three females.

Children:

- 7 Alexander<sup>2</sup>, b Oct. 12, 1759; prob. d. y.
- 8 John<sup>2</sup>, b July 1, 1761.
- 9 William<sup>2</sup>, b April 15, 1763; d Nov. 14, 1795; m Sarah Farnsworth, Oct. 3, 1793. Child: William Stewart<sup>1</sup>, b Aug. 26, 1795; d. y.

- 13 Stuart James<sup>2</sup>, b Feb. 7, 1773.

4. THOMAS<sup>1</sup> PARK, (William<sup>1</sup>), was born 1745, probably in Glasgow. He came to America in 1765. He married Rosannah Conn, daughter of George and Mary Conn, at Harvard, May 3, 1768. They had emigrated a few years earlier from the north of Ireland, where she was born in 1745. She died at Harvard, Oct. 28, 1814. Thomas Park remained in Groton until about 1780, when he removed to Shirley.

He probably went to Harvard about 1765, and lived there the remainder of his life. He was by trade a stone cutter. He held several town offices, and in 1803 and the two following years represented Harvard in the legislature. He died at Harvard June 8, 1806, and is buried there. He was in the Rev. War, in Capt. Henry Farwell's co., Col. Prescott's regt., which marched on the alarm of April 19, 1775. The census of 1790 gives Thomas Park residing at Harvard with 2 sons over 16, 3 sons under 16 and five females.

Children:

- 21 John<sup>2</sup>, b April 24, 1786.

THIRD GENERATION.

8. JOHN<sup>1</sup> PARK, (John<sup>2</sup>, William<sup>1</sup>), was born at St. Catharines, Argyleshire, Scotland, July 1, 1761, and came to America with his parents in 1767. He married Lydia Hamlin, June 1, 1786, at Pepperell, Mass., the daughter of Captain Eleazer and Lydia (Bonney) Hamlin, of Pembroke. She was born at Pembroke, Nov. 5, 1763, and died at Groton, Sept. 2, 1845. He was a stone-mason and did a large amount of building in connection with his brother William. He was a member of the South Military co., of Groton for several years. He died at Groton, May 26, 1811.

The census of 1790 gives his household as himself, one male and three females.

Children:

22 John<sup>d</sup>, b Feb. 1, 1787.

Infant, b July 27, 1813; d. y.

12. ELIZABETH<sup>s</sup> PARK, (John<sup>s</sup>, William<sup>1</sup>), was born at Groton, Mass., March 29, 1770, and died there Sept. 21, 1804. She married Thomas Gass, May 2, 1793, at Groton. He was of Burlington Bay, now Burlington, Vt. After her death he married Eleanor Holden, Dec. 16, 1805; and about 1812 removed with his family to Wales, Hampden Co., where he died.

Children:

John Park Gass, b Aug. 30, 1794.

Joseph Gass, b Dec. 2, 1799.

Anna Gass, b March 28, 1803.

13, STEWART JAMES' PARK, (John', William'), was born at Groton, Mass., Feb. 7, 1773. His early education was obtained from the district schools of his native town: and he was then apprenticed to his father and was working with him at the latter's death. Soon after this event he began business for himself at Concord, Mass. From here he went to Worcester and in 1798 he built the jail at Portland, Me. In 1796 he purchased a farm in Pelham, Mass., and here met Miss Nancy Gray, to whom he was married on May 17, 1798. She was the daughter of Ebenezer and Agnes (Barry) Gray, and was born at Pelham, Oct. 6, 1778. She died at Pelham, Dec 22, 1803, and is buried there. On Sept. 10, 1804, he married Catherine Taylor, at Pelham, the daughter of James and Abiah (Moore) Taylor. She was born at Pelham, May 11, 1782, and died at Groton, Aug. 2, 1872, and is buried beside her husband in the New Cemetery in that town. Mr. Park built in succession the jail at Northampton, Mass., in 1801; the Massachusetts State Prison, 1803 to 1806; the state prison at Windsor, Vt., 1808 to 1810; the state prison at Concord, N. H., 1810 to 1812; his own house at Groton in 1812: the stone locks in the Middlesex Canal, Mass., 1813 to 1814. In 1815 he submitted to the legislature of New Hampshire an estimate and an original plan for a new State House to be erected at Concord in that State and in 1816 was awarded the contract. He was occupied with the construction of this building until July 1818. In 1820 he was employed to superintend the construction of the so called Mill-dam which extended from Boston across the Back Bay to Brighton. This was completed in 1822; in 1824 he was appointed County Agent of Essex County, Mass., to construct in stone the jail and county buildings at Newburyport. In 1827 he began the construction of the dry dock at Charlestown, Mass., which was finished in 1831. He then returned to Groton to the cultivation of his extensive farm, and the remainder of his life was spent there. In 1817 he was appointed Justice of the Peace and of the Quorum, an office which he held until his death. In 1837 he was elected a member of the Massachusetts State Senate, being re-elected in 1838 and served until 1840. He was the wealthiest man in Groton, one of the largest landholders in Middlesex County; and was known over a wide region by the title of "Squire." He was a man of great perseverance and tenacity of purpose, genial and witty; and had all the natural traits of his Scotch ancestors, without perhaps, their religious bigotry. In religion he was a Unitarian and was one of the founders of that society in Groton in 1826. He died at Groton, Aug. 14, 1859.

26. JOHN GRAY<sup>s</sup> PARK, (Stewart J.<sup>s</sup>, John<sup>s</sup>, William<sup>s</sup>), was born at Pelham, Mass., Aug. 31, 1801. His early years were passed with his grandfather Gray at Pelham, his mother having died when he was a little over two years old. Upon his father's settlement in Groton in 1812 he entered Groton Academy, now Lawrence Academy. In 1822 he formed a partnership with Henry Woods, of Groton, for the sale of general merchandise, under the firm name of Park & Woods. On June 4, 1829 he married Maria Thayer, at Boston, the oldest child of Joel and Abigail (Brastow) Thayer, a well-to-do merchant of Boston. She was born at Boston, Aug. 18, 1809, and died at Groton, Sept. 27, 1892, and is buried there. In 1832 Mr. Woods retired from the firm and in March, 1835 Luther F. Potter, of Groton, was admitted a partner with the firm name of Park & Potter. Mr. Park retired in 1842. In March 1834 he was elected Town Clerk of Groton, and served until March, 1837. In November, 1836, he represented Groton in the State Legislature, and was re-elected in 1838. In 1853 he was elected a Delegate to represent the town at a convention held at Boston on May 4, 1853, for altering the Constitution of the Commonwealth. His health during the latter part of his life was poor, and caused him much suffering. He died at Groton, Sept. 23, 1875, and is buried in the new cemetery there. In politics he was a Whig and in religion a Unitarian. He was a man of firm purpose and strict integrity, and was much respected by his associates. The following extract from a letter to Mrs. Park, written by a former partner of Mr. Park, gives in a few words Mr. Park's character: "In all my experience I have never known any man so constantly mindful of the rights of others as Mr. Park. He could be firm and at the same time, cautious, honest and generous. And now as my mind runs back over the past nothing comes up in connection with Mr. Park that is unpleasant—everything is pleasant to remember. It is now [1875] forty-four years since I first knew Mr. Park, and nearly forty-two since I first went into his store as a clerk; and when I consider my own imperfections, and that he was human, how wonderful that in all this time nothing—no little thing should occur that is unpleasant to remember. I never knew him to do anything that he need wish to hide or be ashamed to have all the world know. And yet one so pure and so just is made to suffer as but few do."

34. CHARLES STUART<sup>5</sup> PARK, (John G<sup>4</sup>., Stewart J<sup>3</sup>., John<sup>2</sup>, William<sup>1</sup>), was born at Groton, Mass., Nov. 26, 1831, and died at Savannah, Ga., May 13, 1893. He was educated in the schools of Groton and at Lawrence Academy which he entered in 1841. He was engaged in mercantile pursuits in Sycamore, Ills., for a short time. Returning to Groton he was mustered into Co. E, 44th regt., Mass. Vols., Aug. 24, 1862, and was honorably discharged June 18, 1863. He was appointed Acting Assistant Paymaster in the U. S. Navy, Oct. 26, 1864, and was attached to the U. S. S. Chimo until the close of the war; receiving his honorable discharge Aug. 31, 1865. He then settled in Savannah, which was his home during the remainder of his life. He married Nannie Wickliff Yulee, June 1, 1870, at Bainbridge, Ga., the daughter of Elias and Rachel (Benjamin) Yulee. She was born in Cincinnati, O., Nov. 27, 1851, and lives in Savannah.

36. JOHN GRAY<sup>4</sup> PARK, (John G<sup>4</sup>., Stewart J<sup>4</sup>., John<sup>2</sup>, William<sup>1</sup>), was born at Groton, Mass., Jan. 3, 1838. He entered Lawrence Academy at Groton in 1845, from which he was graduated in 1854, and in the same year entered Harvard University, from which he graduated in 1858. He then spent three years at the Harvard Medical School; during one of which he was a house physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and in Feb. 1862 he was appointed Acting Assistant Surgeon in the U. S. Navy. He served in the North Atlantic and West Gulf Squadrons until November, 1865, when he was honorably discharged, receiving his medical degree in 1866. He at once returned to his native State and settled in Worcester, where he built up a large practice. In 1871 he became the first Superintendent of the new Worcester City Hospital, and largely through his efforts it was started upon a successful basis. On Oct. 22, 1872, he married at Groton, Elizabeth Bigelow Lawrence, daughter of Hon. Asa Farnsworth and Sarah Jane (Bancroft) Lawrence, of Groton, who was born at Pepperell, March 9, 1841, and died at Groton, March 7, 1903. In 1872 Dr. Park was appointed one of the medical staff of the Worcester insane asylum and in 1877 became its Superintendent. In 1879 he was appointed Superintendent of the new Worcester Lunatic Hospital, where he remained for eleven years, until ill health compelled him to resign in the fall of 1890. The summer of 1881 he spent in Europe, studying particularly the methods employed in the care and management of the insane in Great Britain. In 1890 he removed with his family to his native town of Groton, which was his home for the remainder of his life. In 1892 he was appointed by Gov. Russell, one of the trustees of the newly established Medfield insane asylum, and became Chairman of the Board and a member of its building committee. He gave the building of the new asylum his personal attention, and devoted the larger part of the remainder of his life to perfecting its needs. He made several trips to California during the last fifteen years of his life for the benefit of his health. He was called upon as an expert on insanity in several important murder and legal cases. He was one of the consulting physicians of the Memorial Hospital for Women and Children at Worcester; a member of several Massachusetts medical societies, of the American Medico-Psychological Association and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, and he held at different times various positions of trust in Groton. He returned in ill health from California in June, 1905 and soon after went to the City Hospital at Worcester for an operation. The operation was successful but other complications were present which caused his death at Worcester, on Aug. 29, 1905. He was buried in the new cemetery at Groton beside his wife. In character Dr. Park was kind and affectionate, thoughtful of others and eminently just in his dealings. He was especially fond of flowers and their care.
